

Introduction to 3EDGE Asset Management

At 3EDGE Asset Management (“3EDGE”, “our”, “we”, or “us”), we understand and respect the great trust our clients (“you”, “your”) place in us. We always strive to prove your trust was not misplaced and want to maintain a high degree of transparency to keep you informed about your investments at 3EDGE. This client relationship summary (“Form CRS”) is one way we hope to help you learn more about our services and offerings. Specifically, this document provides disclosures and more information on our separately managed accounts (“SMAs”) available to retail investors.

We are registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) as an investment adviser. We believe it is important for you to understand the differences between brokerage and investment advisory services and fees. If you would like to learn more about 3EDGE as a firm or any of the financial professionals on our staff, we encourage you to utilize the free and simple tools available at Investor.gov/CRS. The site also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers and investing.

Relationships and Services

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

We offer investment advisory services to retail investors, including portfolio management for individuals, family offices, multi-family offices, as well as institutional clients including endowments and foundations, public and private retirement plans and corporations. We also provide sub-advisory services for client accounts of other investment advisory firms. In addition, we provide model portfolio recommendations to unaffiliated investment advisers without providing trade execution or other services. We primarily utilize exchange traded funds (“ETFs”) to implement your investment strategy.

Monitoring

As part of our standard services, all investments will be reviewed and approved by our investment team and our investment team monitors your account(s) on a daily basis. There are no material limitations to our account monitoring.

Investment Authority

We manage your account(s) on a discretionary basis, which means we can buy and sell investments on your behalf without seeking permission on a trade-by-trade basis. You grant us discretionary authority through the execution of our investment management agreement. Our discretionary authority may be limited if you request reasonable investment restrictions on the investments we may select for you. We review and accept any restrictions on a case-by-case basis.

Limited Investment Offering

Our investment recommendations will consist primarily of ETFs. We do not currently make available or offer advice with respect to proprietary products.

Account Minimums and Other Requirements

The minimum amount to open an account with our firm is $250,000. However, this amount is negotiable.

Additional information about our services is included in our Form ADV Part 2A which is available at:

Conversation Starters.

Throughout this Form CRS we have included “Conversation Starters.” These are sample questions the SEC suggests you consider asking your financial professional. Please contact us directly if we can help answer these or other questions regarding investing with 3EDGE:

- ◆ Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not?
- ◆ How will you choose investments to recommend to me?
- ◆ What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education, and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

Fees, Costs, Conflicts, and Standard of Conduct

What fees will I pay?

The management fees we charge are negotiated with you or the investment adviser if we sub-advise your account. Fees are negotiable. The standard management fee schedule ranges from 0.50% to 0.80% annually, with fee breakpoints depending on your total assets under our management. In addition, for some strategies we will charge you a lower flat management fee than our standard tiered fee schedule. This creates a potential conflict of interest when recommending which strategy you should invest in because of the higher management fees that we can earn on some strategies.

Management fees are generally paid quarterly in arrears based on the average market value on each business day during the calendar quarter and prorated for partial quarters. The more assets you have in your account, the more you will pay in fees. Therefore, we may have an incentive to encourage you to increase the assets in your account.

In addition to our management fee, you will bear the trading costs for your account(s), including brokerage and custodial fees. Also, you will be indirectly subject to each ETF’s management, trading, and administrative expenses.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

Additional information about our fees and costs is included in our Form ADV Part 2A which is available at:
<https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/summary/282059>

Conversation Starter. Ask your financial professional:

- ◆ Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments.
- ◆ If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here is an example to help you understand what this means.

- Our firm participates in a program where we receive client referrals from Fidelity and pay Fidelity referral fees based on the assets under management attributable to these referred clients. As a result of this referral program, we may have a potential conflict of interest with respect to our decision to use certain affiliates of Fidelity for trade execution, custody and clearing for certain client accounts, and we may have a potential incentive to suggest that you use Fidelity, whether or not you were referred to us as part of the Fidelity referral program.

- ◆ How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

Additional information about our conflicts of interest is included in our Form ADV Part 2A which is available at:

How do your financial professionals make money?

Our financial professionals receive a salary and may receive a discretionary bonus. Our financial professionals responsible for relationship management receive a salary and are also compensated based on client acquisition and client retention for their specific client base. This compensation is calculated as a percentage of revenue. Compensation is set with the intention of attracting and retaining highly qualified professionals. Refer to the first paragraph of this Item 3 for a potential conflict of interest related to our financial professionals' compensation.
